PENCILLETES.

This is a bracing winter. The legislature meets next Monday. Only three more days of the old year 1880.

The sands of the old year are rapidly running out. Eggs are said to be selling at a nickel a piece in Memphis.

Second hand Christmas trees are a drag on the market now.

The steamer, Water Lily, is having two new boilers built at Chattanooga.

Travel continues good over the railroad during the holidays, taking advantage of the special rates.

The top of Lookout Mountain was covered with a thick mantle of snow Monday, according to the Chattanooga Times.

Many recipients of Christmas presents are now busy looking out for or preparing something with which to retaliate on New Year's day.

Miles celebrated Juvenile Opera company is filling an engagement at Cincinnati this week. Manager Fritz Staub expects to secure them for Knoxville about the second week in January.

Chattanooga is expecting to be made a port of entry, and also to get an appropriation from congress to build a U.S. custom house, court house and postoffice building. Gen. J. T. Wilson and Capt. H. S. Chamberlain have been to Washington, and the Times says they have obtained the consent of Mr. Sherman to favor the measure.

Mr. H. C. Collins has the profound sympathy of his many friends in the loss of his little boy, who was so badly burned Monday, as published by us yesterday. He died yesterday morning, a notice of which appears elsewhere. Mrs. Collins is still suffering very much with her hands, which were burned in a shocking manner in the heroic effort to save her child's life.

Nashville Banner: Col. Thos. H. Baker, a well known newspaper man in West Tennessee, has received the appointment of Southern correspondent for the Louisville Commercial, and will hereafter make his headquarters in Nashville. The Colonel has heretofore been a democrat, and so decidedly independent of late years that he will no doubt fall into the republican harness with ease, and become a valuable adjunct to the Commercial's staff.

We are in receipt of the first number of the Kansas County Republican, a new weekly publication at Rockwood, with D. M. Coffman & Co., publishers, and Capt. D. M. Coffman, editor. The republican seems a neat and new appearance, is republican, though of a conservative and independent nature, in politics, and starts out with good prospects of success. We hope the publishers' anticipations may be abundantly realized.

Mr. J. E. Ross, son of Mr. Geo. W. Ross, now in business in Nashville, is expected home about the first of January, and in connection with his brother, Mr. John M. Ross, will open a complete gentlemen's furnishing goods establishment in the house now occupied by Cummins' Music emporium, on Gay street. The young men are blessed with abundant enterprise and business qualifications, and we wish them much success in their new enterprise.

The Second M. E. Church

Was the scene of much enjoyment Saturday night, and was filled to overflowing. It was the Christmas entertainment. Two trees were arranged, very handsomely decorated, one for the school, which is a flourishing one, numbering 100, and one for special presents. The entertainment was opened with religious exercises and excellent music. Old Santa Claus entered with baskets, sacks, etc., the contents of which he proceeded to distribute to the satisfaction of all. Judicious use of the money was made and presents distributed equally. Besides all were supplied with refreshments. There were many special presents, some nice and valuable, while others were of a ludicrous nature, creating merriment.

Next Thursday night there will be a repetition at this church of the musical and literary entertainment recently given, introducing many new and entertaining features.

Personal.

Hon. John W. Ramsey, of Cleveland, and W. L. McKnight, Esq., of Charleston, our valued and reliable correspondent at that point, came up on yesterday evening's train and remembered the CHRONICLE with a call.

Senator L. Huddleston, of Union county, arrived in the city yesterday en route to Nashville and called on the CHRONICLE.

At a recent concert, it was the subject of remark that in what fine "voice" the singers were; in commending his good judgment, the leader will pardon us for whispering that he always recommends Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for clearing and strengthening the voice.

Episcopal Church Matters.

Rev. Thos. Duncan, as we learn, tendered his resignation as rector of St. John's Episcopal church, in this city, and is soon to remove to Washington, D. C. Not only the membership of his own congregation, but all Christians and good citizens, will regret to lose Mr. Duncan from our midst. Since his residence here he has established an enviable reputation as an earnest, devoted pastor, and an able and interesting expounder of Gospel truths. He is much loved and respected by all who have had communications with him. His vacancy has not yet been supplied.

Rev. H. Johnson, who has been pursuing a course of study for the Episcopal ministry, has been recently ordained by Bishop Quintard, and is soon to take charge of two or three churches in Maury county.

Lebanon Church Dedication.

Hon. J. W. Ramsey informs us of the dedication last Sunday of a fine church building at Lebanon, on the Cleveland circuit, erected for the worship of the Methodist Episcopal church. Although the weather was quite inclement there was a very large congregation in attendance. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Bishop H. W. Warren, and it is represented as a magnificent effort of pulpit oratory. Prof. J. L. Caldwell, of the university at Athens, preached at night, also to a large congregation.

Pleasant Christmas Occasion.

Perhaps it is not yet too late to mention a pleasant affair which occurred Christmas eve at the residence of Mr. L. Haver, a well known Market square tin and stove merchant. Mr. Haver had a nice little Christmas entertainment at his house, to which some immediate friends were invited. After the enjoyment was about over, the clerks and employees in the store made their appearance in a body, altogether unexpectedly and presented their employer, Mr. Haver, with a very handsome gold headed ebony walking cane, which was received with a grateful heart, and the donors were invited to enjoy some of the excellent refreshments served up in fine style by Mrs. Haver. Mr. Joseph C. Harris made the presentation speech in about the following language:

Mr. Haver: In carrying out our programme this evening, we do not assume to indulge in any style of eloquence or use bombastic phrases, or to make a display of those occupying more exalted positions in life, but in a style unpretentious I will endeavor to discharge the duty which has been placed upon me, by my co-laborers (your employees). I, therefore, in behalf of your employees, take great pleasure in presenting this cane. Please accept it as a token and memento of the high esteem in which we hold you. The relation which has hitherto existed between us as employer and employee has been of the most pleasant character, and in presenting you this, we give you a hand of friendship which we trust shall bloom immortal when no more waves are sold, when time shall cease to be made, and the stars which flower in celestial gardens shall have withered in the hot breath of a judgment day.

Celebrated Dr. Wm. H. Stokes, Baltimore, writes: "I confidently recommend to the medical profession Golden's Liquid Extract of Beef for Consumption, Depression, Weakness and Indigestion. Sold by Sanford, Chamberlain & Albers, and Hunter & Co."

The Christmas Injured Ones. Cal. Morris, the white man, who was stabbed by Dennis Foley, Christmas day, and Charley McNutt, colored, who was shot the same day, were both improving at latest accounts yesterday. A correction is due in the case of the shooting scrape. McNutt was shot in front of Thos. Foster's bar room, where he was bar tender, and not at Thos. Clay's saloon. McNutt did not tend bar at Clay's.

Drowned at Rockford.

A colored man named Hiram Arnett, who worked at McManahan's mill near Rockford, Blount county, was drowned in the river at that place Sunday night, or rather Monday morning, the facts of which occurrence are related to us about as follows: Arnett had been to Knoxville on something of a Christmas spree, and was on his return home. He stopped at the house of some colored folks beside of Rockford, and spent Sunday night. Monday morning he started very early, before day, to cross the water on some gunwales, carrying a pine torch with him, and as we learn, had not yet gotten safely across. Nothing more was seen of him till about 10 o'clock that day, when his dead body was found in the mill dam. There were evidences of where he had slipped off the gunwales while crossing. A coroner's inquest was held and a verdict of accidental death rendered.

Christmas at the Baptist Church.

By an aggregating oversight, a report of the elegant Christmas entertainment at the First Baptist church Christmas eve, failed to appear in our last issue. This is one of the most successful Sunday-schools in our city, under the excellent superintendency of Mr. Thos. L. Moser. There are near 800 pupils on the roll. The church was decorated in an exceedingly tasteful manner with evergreens, there appearing among the decorations the "Star of Bethlehem" and the motto "Peace on Earth." There was a very large and delighted audience present. After music by the choir, the exercises were opened with prayer by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Strickland. Then followed an enjoyable literary exercise, consisting of recitations by pupils of the school, interspersed with music. Refreshments were distributed among the school. A pleasant episode was a handsome remembrance of the beloved pastor and wife, who were presented with a beautiful silver service, costing about $100, from the lady members of the church. It was appropriately inscribed, and no doubt be prized as an invaluable memento.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of indigestion is indigestion, and the result is weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood, and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other columns.—Advance.

A Drunken Woman.

Considerable excitement was created Monday evening about 11 o'clock at the confectionery of Peter Rizardi, by an old negro woman in a beastly state of intoxication, forcing an entrance into the store despite all attempts to put her out. What her business was could not be divined, but she seemed in an effort to move toward the young man in the store, and betwixt numerous embraces. It was not until help was procured that she was removed, and two policemen escorted her home.
